

About Kinaxia Logistics

Kinaxia Logistics is a leading Logistics Group operating within the UK transport and warehouse sector. Kinaxia Logistics was formed in 2012 by Peter Fields and Graham Norfolk, with the acquisition of Bay Freight Limited. Since then, with the latest addition of David Hathaway Transport Ltd, it has a total of thirteen companies, and looks to continue to increase its UK coverage by making further acquisitions.

The vision of Kinaxia Logistics is to build a flexible and efficient, service-focused, transport and warehousing group through investment in, and partnership with, medium-sized, profitable, growing privately owned companies across the UK. Across the Group, Kinaxia Logistics has around 1,800 staff with a total turnover of £190 million/year. It operates 920 vehicles and has 2 million square foot of warehouse space.

Kinaxia Logistics

“ Within a few weeks of working with Web Insights we closed a substantial business win. ”

Vanessa Hope, Group Sales & Marketing Director, Kinaxia Logistics.

Working with Web Insights

“ Within a few weeks of working with Web Insights we closed a substantial business win using data intelligence gathered by the solution. We’re delighted to have added it to our sales and marketing toolkit. ”

“

We’re delighted to have added Web Insights to our sales and marketing toolkit.

”